Create Team

- 1) Go to Teams & Capsules

The screenshot shows the Bixby Developer Center homepage. On the left, a sidebar lists navigation options: Getting Started, Guides, References, Sample Capsules, and Teams & Capsules. The 'Teams & Capsules' option is highlighted with a teal background and matching text color. The main content area has a light gray background and features the heading 'Create or Join a Team'. Below the heading, text reads: 'To publish a capsule, you need to be a part of a team. To get started, either create your own team or ask an existing team's admin to invite you.' A blue link 'Managing Teams & Capsule Access Guide' is provided for more details. At the bottom right of the main area, there is a teal button labeled 'Create a New Team'.

Create a Private Submission

The screenshot shows the Bixby Studio interface. On the left, there is a sidebar with various icons and a capsule named "voicecraft.rockPaperScissors". The main area is titled "Submissions — Bixby Studio" and shows a "Submission History" section. It includes filters for "All Types" and "All States", a search bar, and a message stating "No submissions found that match the current criteria. Try a different filter setting or syncing a different capsule." A large white arrow points from the text "1) Click Submissions" to the "Submissions" icon in the sidebar.

The screenshot shows a dark-themed user interface for managing submissions. At the top, there's a header with a cloud icon labeled "Submissions" and a "1" icon. Below the header, the title "Submission History" is displayed, along with a "Create New Submission" button. The main area features a search bar with filters for "All Types" and "All States", and a search input field. A single submission is listed: "Rock Paper Scissors v 1" with a lock icon, indicating it is private. The submission was made "a few seconds ago". Below the list, a message says "No more submissions to load".

The screenshot shows a 'Submissions' interface with a dark theme. At the top, there's a search bar with 'rockPaperScissors' and a 'Create New Submission' button. Below the search bar are filters for 'All Types' and 'All States', and a 'search by description' input. A single submission is listed: 'Rock Paper Scissors v 1' (locked icon), created 'a few seconds ago', with target 'rockPaperScissors@1.0.0' and author 'Roger Kibbe'. The submission has an ID of '2019-136-73596'. To the right of the submission details is a list of four actions: 'Can Validation Log', 'Capsule Interpreter Training', 'Capsule Interpreter Training Summary', and 'Discovery'. A large white arrow points from the text '6) Note ID' to the 'ID' field in the submission details. At the bottom of the screen, it says 'No more submissions to load'.
